PLANTERS HOTEL,

Fourth street nearly opposite the Printing office of the Missouri Gazette,

(ST. LOUIS.)

THE situation of this new Establishment is very convenient for travellers, in the centre of business, and, from the elevation of the ground, airy and healthy. The improvements already made are considerable. The dining room particularly is 44 feet long, by 21.—Every exertion will be made by the proprietor, to give satisfaction to travellers or residents, who will honour his house with their custom.—At present considerable difficulty is experienced in obtaining marketing, owing perhaps to the very great and continued emigration to this country; but the proprietor flatters himself that, with the stock of provisions already on hands, he will be able to accommodate his guests amply. The house stands on a beautiful and extensive lot, which will be laid out as a Pleasure Garden, ornamented with handsome walks, and summer houses, for the recreation of gentlemen during the summer season, and furnished with Liquors, Fruit, Wines, Ice-Creams, Cakes and Pastry, of every description. A billiard-room is attached to the establishment. In order that the house may be kept with regularity and good order, a printed copy of the regulations will be put up in every room.

The prices will be moderate.

On the back of the lot is a Livery Stable, which will shortly come into the possession of the proprietor of the Hotel, and will be well furnished with provender, and attended by careful and obliging hostlers.

BEWARE! BEWARE!

There are notes of the denominations of 1, 3, 5, and 10 dollars, lately put in circulation, purporting to be issued by the Bank of Sandusky Bay, at Bloomingville. They are elegantly executed; the plate was engraved by S. Reed, and they resemble the notes of the Commercial Bank of Lake Erie, at Cleveland. These notes we are informed, were procured by persons who associated together in Huron county, for the purpose of establishing a Bank at Bloomingville, but not being able to procure a charter and finding that bank notes issued from unchartered institutions, were in bad credit, have abandoned the business, and sold their paper which they had procured to the amount of $70,000, and the individuals who have purchased it are attempting to palm it upon the public. They have filled them up with fictitious signatures.

We think no time ought to be lost in cautioning the public against taking them as there is no such bank.

We are informed that three men by the names of Leech, Hare and Dike have started down the river having about thirty thousand dollars in their possession. These gentlemen swindlers will no doubt dash into business in the first style of their profession, as they pass down the Ohio. Let editors of papers sound the alarm.

Columbus Gazette.

OXFORD, (N. Y.) March 18,

LAW CASE.—The People vs. Sherman Page.—The defendant was tried at the last general sessions for the county of Chenango, on an indictment under the statute prohibiting attornies from "purchasing or receiving, by way of pledge or security for money lent, any bond, note or writing, with intent to commence a suit thereon, and who shall commence such suit accordingly." The evidence was full and satisfactory, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty. The defendant was fined $200, and suspended from practice for 3 years.

Pursuing the Dead.

It appears from an article in a Vermont paper, that such was the anxiety to obtain the body of Samuel E. Godfrey, for dissection, who was executed at Woodstock, (Vermont,) on the 11th Feb. that it was necessary to resort to an expedient to prevent it. A coffin was prepared, and a suitable stick of wood put therein, which, accompanied by armed men, was carried a distance of several miles, and left in a barn for safe keeping. In the mean time, the body of Godfrey was put into a garret at Woodstock, to be saved for his friends, where it appears to have remained during the cold season, but has latterly been removed to another place of safety, waiting for the connexions to call for it, who had deferred doing so by reports that the doctors had got hold of it.—[N. Y. Daily Adv.

NEW-YORK, April, 4.

ELEPHANT.—The elephant which has been some time exhibited in this city, started from Brooklyn on Thursday evening, to go to Flatbush; but by some means became irritated and umanagable, and broke from her keeper, and at midnight was roaming along the gardens—destroying fences, and exhibiting astonishing proofs of agility and power. We are gratified in being able to add, that she showed no disposition to injure persons, and submitted to command yesterday morning without having received injury.

A resolution has been adopted by both houses of congress and approved by the president, for the publication of the journal of the convention which formed the constitution of the United States, and of all the acts and proceedings of that convention which are in the possession of the government, together with the secret journals of the acts and proceedings, and the foreign correspondence, of the congress of the U. States, from the time of their first meeting to the date of their ratification of the definitive treaty of peace between the United States and Great Britain in the year 1783; except such parts of the foreign correspondence as the president may deem it improper at this time to publish. We heartily approve of this measure, and sincerely regret the introduction of the exception. In regard to pending negotiations or discussions of any kind with foreign nations, such a precaution is always proper and often necessary. But the suppression of any correspondence with foreign powers previous to the peace of '83 can hardly at this time, subserve any other than sinister and interested purposes; and we really hope that the president will not avail himself of the discretion which we think has been indiscreetly allowed to him. Garbled documents of the kind would be worse than none.

INCREASE OF POPULATION.

A gentleman just from the county of Arkansas, informs that the sheriff took in a list of 10,000 males, in his last assessment rounds in that county. This increase of population is perhaps unprecedented in any quarter.

A gentleman here, from Howard county, (Boons Lick) assures us that 8000 males can be enumerated within that county. St. Charles county has had such an overflow, during the late tide of emigration, that it is thought that two additional counties will be formed from it at the next sitting of the Legislature.

It is the opinion of many gentlemen who have travelled over a considerable portion of the territory, that our present population amounts to 60,000 souls.—St. Louis Enq.

Foreign.

LONDON, Feb. 9.

Saturday and yesterday we received three days Paris papers to Thursday last inclusive. The Journal de debates of Thursday gives the following details respecting the late transactions at Algiers, which are stated to have been received at Paris by Sir Sydney Smith, who communicated them to the Anti-Pirate Institution.

"The captain of the Sardinian polacre, La-Belle Marie, which arrived at the Lazaretto of Port Mahon on the 6th of Dec. last, having left Algiers the 2d of the same month, reports, as well as the fugitive passengers on board, that the new Dey Ali-Hadja, having established his power by the aid of a considerable body of Moors, no longer set any bounds to his fury or his tyrannical conduct; that all the European powers, without distinction, had been outraged; that all the Consuls had been menaced and terrified by a numerous horde of negroes, of whom the Dey's guard and court are composed, and who had forced themselves into the houses of the Consuls, the security of which had ceased to be inviolable. The captain reports also, that Ali Hadja had caused to be destroyed the ancient palace of his predecessors; that he had established himself in a fort called le Chateau l'Empereur; that he had not hesitated to seize the treasure which was kept there, and which had been hitherto religiously preserved; and that he had thus obtained immense means to support for a long time his horrible satellites, and to increase their number.

"The Dey had caused to be seized two young women of a Jewish family, whose father was employed in the English Consulate, and two days afterwards also the eldest daughter of the Sieur Pominibo, master of the French Hotel. This unfortunate girl last mentioned was compelled to espouse the Dey, and she is now sovereign, but expecting the fate of the daughter of the Dey of Tyterus, who was seized in the same manner by the late Dey Haji Ali, and who was found after his death in prison and emaciated by hunger.

"The greater part of the Consuls assembled to make, in unison, complaints and remonstrances, but having been informed before they reached the Palace, that orders had been issued by Ali-Hadja to his negroes to fire upon any of the Consuls who should venture to make any complaint or remonstrance, and being convinced on their arrival at the Palace of the truth of this statement by the menacing gestures of the negroes by whom they were immediately surrounded, they found themselves compelled to retire, after having recourse to common place remarks and insignificant observations, in order to fill up the time of this useless audience.

"The policy adopted by the present Dey, who is a Turk, is to arm the natives of the country against his own fellow-countrymen, thus making a new epoch in the history of these countries. Such an example authorizes every other to assemble an army of mercenaries of the same description in order to dispute with the sovereignty.

"This experiment was a short time tried by a Turk of distinction; he marched against Ali Hadja with some troops which he had collected at Constantine, but the issue of the first battle proved unfavourable to him, and he was made prisoner. The hospitality which Ali Hadja had formerly received from this Turk, induced him to spare his life: he gave him 1,000 sequins and exiled him. This Turk, who was the chief of the insurgents, has arrived at Mahon."

Vizier Ally.—Amongst the deaths mentioned in the Calcutta papers, we find that of Vizier Ally, once Nabob of Oude; who being deposed by the East Indian Company, was subsequently and in consequence of the treacherous murder of Mr. Cherry and others at Benares, confined for life, in an iron cage, in Fort William, where he lingered out an imprisonment of seventeen years, three months and four days. He died in May last, at the age of only 36.

London, Jan. 27.—Letters from our missionaries in Otaheite say that idolatry is entirely abolished there; and that the king, Binare, had sent them all the idols of his family to be destroyed, or sent as curiosities to England.

Paris, Jan. 19.—Mr. Thos. R. Jolliffe, an English gentleman lately arrived from Jerusalem, has received from the Superior of the Catholic establishments (superintendant of Mount Sion and the Holy Sepulchre) an authentic narrative of the distress which the Christian Church of Palestine now experiences; and he has lost no time in publishing this information, which is of the highest interest to christians of all communions.

EXPEDITION TO THE NORTH POLE.

Capt. Buchan, of the Pike sloop of War recently returned from Newfoundland, is appointed to the expedition to the North Pole. Captain Ross is the other officer who is to proceed thither. They are to be accompanied by four lieutenants attached to each of the captains, and the others to command the two vessels to act as tenders. Two of the ships to proceed up Davis's Straights, the extent or termination of which is utterly unknown; and the other two, if possible, to the pole between Iceland and Greenland.—London pap.

Miscellany.

THE PUNISHMENT OF INGRATITUDE.

A French writer relates the following remarkable instance of ingratitude in children:—

An eminent trader at Lyons, who had acquired an easy fortune, had two handsome daughters, between whom, on their marriage, he divided all his property, on condition that he should pass the summer with one, and the winter with the other. Before the end of the first year, he found sufficient ground to conclude, that he was not a very acceptable guest to either; of which he however took no notice, but hired a handsome lodging in which he resided a few weeks—he then applied to a friend, and told him the truth of the matter, desiring the gift of two hundred livres, and the loan of fifty thousand in ready money for a few hours. His friend very readily complied with this request: and the next day the old gentleman made a very splendid entertainment, to which his daughters and their husbands were invited. Just as dinner was over, his friend came in a great hurry; told him of an unexpected demand upon him, and desired to know whether he could lend him fifty thousand livres. The old man told him without any emotion that twice as much was at his service, if he wanted it;—and going into the next room, brought him the money. After this, he was not suffered to stay any longer in lodgings; his daughters were jealous, if he stayed a day more in one house than the other; and after three or four years spent with them he died; when upon examining his cabinet, instead of livres, there was found a note containing these words:—"He who has suffered by his virtues has a right to avail himself of the vices of those by whom he has been injured; and a father ought never to be so fond of his children, as to forget what is due to himself."

Happy prevention of premature interment.

The late Sir Hugh Acland, of Devonshire, apparently died of a fever, and was laid out as dead. The nurse, with two of the footmen, sat up with the corpse, and, the weather being at the time extremely cold, Lady Acland sent them a bottle of brandy, to drink in the night. One of the servants told the other, that "the old boy their master, dearly loved a little brandy when he was alive, and he was resolved that he should take one glass now when he was dead." The fellow accordingly poured out a bumper, and forced it down his throat. A guggling immediately ensued, and a violent motion of the neck and upper part of the breast. The other footman and the nurse were so terrified, that they ran down stairs, and the brandy genius, hastening away with rather too much speed, tumbled down head foremost. The noise of the fall and his cries alarmed a young gentleman, who slept in the house that night; who got up, and went immediately to the room where the supposed corpse lay, and, to his great astonishment, saw Sir Hugh sitting upright.—He called the servants. Sir Hugh was put into a warm bed, and the physician and apothecary sent for. These gentlemen, in a few weeks, perfectly restored their patient to health, and he lived several years afterwards. The baronet often told the story, and when he really died, left the brandy footman a handsome annuity.

THE POPE.

Some astonishment has been expressed in the London papers, that the present monarch of France has not undergone the ceremony of being crowned by the pope. It may be remembered that when his holiness put the crown upon the head of Buonaparte, he was compelled to do this office, Buonaparte declared that the holy father m choose between a journey to Paris a retreat to a convent. There is no re to believe that Louis ever made such a mand upon the pope: or that if he made such a demand, the holy father w be intimidated into an acquiescence. ther, as the pope has already put the c on the head of Buonaparte, is it pr that during the life time of that emp he would put the same crown on the h of another! If a question should aris case the pope had done this to both of contending parties) which of these had best papal right to the throne, how c this question be decided!—Balt. Pat.

Pittsburgh, April 3, 1818.——3

PITTSBURGH,

FRIDAY, APRIL 17, 1818.

A bill has passed the Senate of the U. States to be engrossed, raising the Salaries of the Secretary of State and the Treasury to 6500 dollars, of War and of the Navy to 6000, of the Attorney General to 3500, and of the Postmaster General to 4000.

FROM THE ARMY.

The Augusta Gazette of the 31st of March states, on the authority of a letter from fort Early, dated the 10th, that "on the 11th the army was to march for fort Scott, at which place it would arrive in four days, if no intervening obstacle checked its progress. The vicinity of our troops to the savages will soon bring on an engagement, unless they change their position, and divide their forces into more numerous parties. In this event which we fear, the campaign must be protracted, until the enemy is cut up in detail."

A bill directing that the 2d of November shall be the time for the next meeting of Congress, passed the house of Representatives on the 4th instant—yeas 87, nays 42. On the same day an engrossed bill making a further appropriation for carrying on what is called the national road from Cumberland on the Potomac to the Ohio, was read a third time, passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence, yeas 74, nays 56.

Mr. Meade.—On the 4th inst. in the House of Representatives of the United States, Mr. Sergeant from the Select Committee to whom had been referred the Memorial of a number of citizens of Philadelphia, respecting the imprisonment of Mr. Meade, made a report comprising a general view of the case; and concluding with the recommendation of a resolution that the House will support the Executive in all proper measures which he may take to procure the release of Mr. Meade from confinement.

GENERAL MINA AGAIN!

The Savannah Republican of the 28th ult. contains a contradiction of the report of Gen. MINA's death. It is stated to be received from Col. MELVILLE, belonging to the Staff of the General, who informs that he left him at Quanaxuato on the 28th of November, with 5000 men under his command, and his affairs in a very prosperous state. Colonel MELVILLE, it is said, is on his way to Washington City, at which place he intends to contradict the Spanish Bulletin of the 27th of October, announcing the execution of General MINA.

NAVIGATION BILL.

The senate of the United States have passed a bill by a vote of 32 to 1, excluding from the ports of the United States, from the 30th of Sept. next, all British vessels coming from British ports which are closed against American vessels; and directing that British vessels leaving the U. States, with productions thereof, shall give bonds not to land their cargoes at any British ports prohibited in the act. Vessel &c. to be forfeited, if she attempts to sail without giving bond. Relf

In the debate on the interesting question of Internal improvements, in a reply to Mr. Nelson, who supported the opinion of the President, and had made some reflections touching the soundness of the views of Mr. Clay; this gentleman, in a warm reply, introduced the following observations:

"It is true, said Mr. Clay, that I went on a mission to Ghent: and let me tell the gentleman (stretching forth his desolating arm) that it is also true, that if I do not now hold a conspicuous place in the Cabinet of the nation, it is because I would not be placed there—not for the want of offers. I had rather have my present station (said he) than any apointment in the gift of any Executive under heavens—I court no favors."

Considerable excitement prevailed in New Orleans, at the last dates, in consequence of the treatment experienced by some hundreds of Swiss and German peasants who had just arrived in three Dutch ships, and who had been sold to raise the money due for their passage.

A New-York paper mentions, that from ten to fifteen hundred mechanics are employed in the silver plate manufactory in that city.

FROM CADIZ.

Capt. PITT, arrived at Baltimore in the ship Scioto, 36 days from Cadiz, informs, that the Russian fleet, of five 74's and four frigates, arrived at Cadiz on the 23d February, four days before he sailed; as also, two valuable ships from Lima, with dollars, &c.—Flour at Cadiz and Gibraltar, $9 1-2 and dull.

Russian Minister.—"We learn," says the Baltimore American, "that Mr. POLITTICCA, at present Sscretary to the Russian Embassy at London, has been appointed by the Emperor of Russia his Minister Extraordinary near the United States. Mr. Politticca was here formerly as Secretary of Legation to Count Pahlen. He was preparing to depart for this country at the last accounts from London.

"This appointment, we learn, is made in place of Baron Von Tuil, who will continue in Europe."

SAVANNAH, March 30.

SKIRMISH WITH THE INDIANS.

We learn, that, on the 18th inst. a party of 34 of the Telfair militia, 17 were mounted, and 17 on foot, under maj. Cawthorn, passed over the Ocmulgee in pursuit of a party of Indians. The order of march was that if they fell in with the Indians in a thicket, or advantageous ground, a retreat would be ordered, & to be continued, until they gained suitable ground, to combat with the enemy. They met the Indians, fifty or sixty in number, in a thicket, and the retreat was ordered by the major—the horsemen continued the retreat; on suitable ground, Mitchel Griffin, who commanded the footmen, ordered them to face about and fight the Indians. Griffin was immediately killed, and 4 others fell dead, and 2 were wounded. The Indian loss is reported to be about 10 killed, including their chief, whose body and that of one other Indian was found after the action. It was a drawn battle. The horsemen under maj Cawthorn, it is reported, did not return to the aid of their countrymen who fought on foot. The skirmish, no doubt is the one, in which it was stated that general Jackson was engaged.—Rep.

The St. Regis Indians have sold to the state of New York, two thousand acres of their reserved lands, for which an annuity of 200 dollars, is to be paid annually for ever.

ST. LOUIS, March 20, 1818.

On Friday the 13th inst. the Mississippi commenced rising, and continued so rapidly to mount the first bank, that on Saturday morning a vast quantity of property, consisting of flour, pork, lumber, firewood, and boats in a state of repair, were carried off. It appears that the present rise is occasioned by the late breaking up of the Missouri ice. The Mississippi above Salt river continues closed.

From the Norfolk Herald April 1.

Among the vessels which went up the bay on Sunday afternoon was the brig Huron, Martin, 16 days from Havanna with a cargo of molasses and sugar. Capt. Appleby, of this town, came passenger in the H. and has come up in the sloop Gen. Swift, from North Carolina. Capt. A. states that about eight days previous to his sailing, despatches had been received by the Governor from the government of old Spain, instructing him to close the port of Havanna against all nations indiscriminately; which order it was expected would be carried into execution, in a few days, as the Governor only waited the arrival of the next packet for a duplicate of his instructions. Capt. A. further states, that the British government, determined to enforce their measures for putting a stop to the African Slave Trade, had sent two agents on that business, who had arrived at Havanna a few days previous to his leaving there. It was thought that this step, coupled with the new order of Ferdinand, would produce something like a revolution at Havanna. The Buenos Ayrean squadron, was still cruising close in with the Moro and blockading the harbor.

Richmond, (Vir.) March 28.

Yesterday morning, we had rather a curious and singular spectacle in the streets of this city. A man, dressed in a hunter's shirt, accompanied by a woman leading a horse, appeared before us. On the horse, was a sack bag, thrown over—and in each end of the bag, peeped out the heads of two children.—The little creatures were so arranged, that the two in each end were placed back to back, so that two looked towards the head of the horse and two towards the tail. One of them was an infant; for while the mother held the rein, she presented her bosom and gave suck to the little urchin, as it nestled in the sack. The heads of the children now sunk almost out of sight, and then, popped up like young robbins in a nest.—The whole cavalcade was singularly amusing to those who saw it. We have often seen a horse carry double—but never before this occasion have we seen one carry quadruple. It was rather a singular mode of riding, and certainly somewhat inconvenient to the riders:—but I defy any one to have seen a more summary or cheaper mode of travelling.

Paris Papers contain the following short description of that city:—

There are now reckoned in Paris 1109 streets; 110 alleys; 111 passages; 30 quays; 18 boulevards; 87 places; 31 cross streets; 121 culs de sac; (courts through which there is no thoroughfare;) 10 public promenades; 56 barriers; 16 gates; 16 bridges; 16 halls; 28 market places: 9 prisons; 13 barracks; 12 palaces; 2 cathedral churches; 38 churches; 4 temples; 3 colleges; 15 hospitals; 9 asylums for monks; and 10 theatres.

A subscription has been commenced in London for the relief of unemployed British Seamen.—30,000 seamen and marines are now said to be dependent on Greenwich Hospital.

A pedestrian, named Aaron Wentworth, in England, has commenced the unexampled foot match of going sixty miles a day for ten days. He had performed 356 miles in six days. He was not to travel over picked ground; but in his progress is to touch sixteen counties.

Gen. Henry Lee is no more! This gentleman breathed his last on Cumberland Island, in the state of Georgia, on the 25th of March last. As a soldier and patriot his name stood pre-eminent—his rank among men of letters was highly respectable; now he sleeps in that narrow pent house the last receptacle for all the living.—Every year the grave receives some hero who fought for, and assisted to establish us as an independent nation. Let us weep a "monument of tears" on the graves that contain the relics of those old war-worn veterans. Nat. Mess.

MAYSVILLE,
(Kentucky.)

THE enterprize and industry of the inhabitants of this town having placed it in a remarkable flourishing situation, and the subscribers being proprietors of land contiguous to it, have thought it advisable to add to its present confined limits.—They have laid off into convenient streets and allies, a sufficient quantity of land, situate in the bottom immediately above the said town, with a handsome situation for its extension. The advantages attending Maysville, more generally known by the name of Limestone, must be obvious to every man acquainted with the western country.

It stands immediately on the bank of the Ohio, and is surrounded by a fine, healthy, and fertile country on both sides of the river, and has been the deposit of the Merchandize imported from the Atlantic country for thirty years past.

The main leading road from Philadelphia, Baltimore, and the Eastern Country generally, towards New-Orleans, both by land and water passes this place, and necessarily renders it interesting. The Turnpike Road from the West makes it a point, and if a rich country, and permanent establishments, can give a town importance, this place must flourish. The subscribers offer their Lots on liberal terms, and will secure the purchasers many privileges and advantages, not common to towns. They invite the attention of the Mechanic, the Manufacturer, and Merchant of the West, under a full belief, that the advantages of all parties will be substantially promoted. The raw materials are abundant, capital and industry, with the first gifts of nature, must at this place ensure profit to correct enterprize.

A public sale of Lots will be made on the second Wednesday in April next, on a credit of 9, 18, and 27 months; a payment of five per cent on the value of each Lot will be required at the time of purchase, as a part of the price thereof; and an indisputable title made to the purchasers at the last payment.

In the mean time any persons wishing to purchase may be accommodated, on application to the subscribers.
